The disability community deserves to be counted!

More than $675 billion in federal funds are at stake.

We lose at least $1,800 per year on average nationally for each person undercounted in 2020. This means programs we rely on such as healthcare services, energy and food subsidies, early childhood education, special education, accessible sidewalks, and even our highways are at risk of funding cuts because of an undercount.

Be counted!

Around March 2020, you will receive an official mailing notification on how to complete the 2020 Census. You can complete the mailed version sent to you or complete it online or by phone. Fill out your form by April 30th to be counted.

The disability community needs YOU to ensure a complete count and safeguard our programs and social services.
